A SCANDALOUS MUTILATION.

Heartrending Interview of the Poet With the Western Editor. While a Western editor was sit ting in his office one day, a man whose brow was clothed with thunder entered. Fiercely seizing a chair, he slammed his hat on the table. hurled his umbrella on the floor, and sat down. "Are you the editor?" he asked.

"Yes!" "Can you read writing?"

"Of course! "Read that, then!" he said, thrusting at the Colonel an envelope with an inscription on it

"B-" hesitated the Colonel, trying to spell it.

"That's not it; it is an S," cried the man. "S-oh yes, I see," admitted the editer. "Well, it looks like Salt for printed the other day on 'The Sur cease of Sorrow." "I don't remember it," said the Colonel, retrospectively. Of course you don't," snarled the visitor, "because it went into the paper under the infamous title of 'Smearcase To-morrow!' "A blunder of the compositor's,

I suppose," explained the editor. "Yes, sir; and that's what I want to see you about. The way in which that poem was mutilated was simply scandalous. I haven't slept a night since it exposed me to derision. People think that I am an ass. Let me show you, The first line, when I wrote it, read this way: Lying by a weeping willow, underneath

The Companion's New Calendar.

The Youth's Companion Calendar for 1900 is unique in form and beautiful in design. The oval centerpiece, in high colors and enclosed in a border of flowers, represents "A Dream of Summer" and is support ed on either side by an admirably executed figure piece in delicate tiuts. The whole is delightful in sentiment and in general effect. Larger than any of the Companion's previous Calendars, it is equally acceptable as a work of art. As an ornament to the home it will take a preeminent place. The Calendar is published exclusively by the Companion. It cannot be obtained elsewhere. It will be given to all new subscribers for 1900, who will also receive, in addition to ume, all the issues for the remaining prisoners of Marshal Krabill, who for them.
